WONDERFULLY VIBRANT

NEW! JOSKO NATURAL WOOD FLOORING BY TRAPA

Pure natural solid wood flooring, carefully processed and treated with crystallising natural oil – a joy for the senses, bearing witness to outstanding, high quality workmanship.

Our natural wood flooring is produced by the Austrian wood flooring manufacturer TRAPA according to strict ecological criteria. The wood comes only from sustainably managed forests in Central Europe. It is treated deep into the structure of the wood according to traditional techniques and TRAPA even generates a large part of the energy that it uses itself.

The result of this complex manufacturing process are extraordinarily attractive, resistant and durable natural wood floors that fulfil the highest demands for quality, sustainability and individual interior design. As a result, they are the ideal complement to our window and door ranges – also in terms of look: for a unique, harmonious welcoming living ambience.

Take your time and discover the new world of Josko: Windows, doors and – now – also flooring.

JOSKO SMART MIX
Josko makes products for people – and for their living environment. They give living areas their individual character and open up new perspectives: sustainably and with vision.

The complete Josko product range is coordinated in terms of design, symmetry, colours and materials, which allows you to harmoniously combine your windows, interior doors and front door. This applies also to the new natural wood flooring from Josko.

With a natural product such as wood, you may experience deviations in colour, structure and knots. These differences are specific to the type of wood, are completely natural and are an indication of how genuine and natural the product is.

As a full-range supplier, Josko is your partner for new buildings and renovations. Josko is synonymous with design, but our products are also rated highly in terms of thermal insulation, technology and quality.

See for yourself how good the advice, service and delivery is from our competent Josko partners.

NATURAL INTERIOR DESIGN WITH ALL YOUR SENSES

The secret of pure natural wooden flooring is in its genuineness. It radiates a soothing warmth like no other flooring material. Its naturally-mature wood structure gives it a unique vitality, every single floorboard seems to tell its own story. And over time, as the years pass and it becomes even more attractive, it acquires its very own individual character and becomes a floor with personality.

When you enter a room with a natural wood floor, you immediately feel relaxed and at home. You feel alive, take a deep breath and a pleasant feeling of comfort spreads throughout the room. A natural wood floor captivates the senses, its elastic strength appears to be full of power and charm. And the longer you know it, the more you realise that it is uncomplicated and easy to care for.

Flooring, windows and doors as a complete aesthetic experience. Basically, with natural wood flooring, it doesn't really matter how you furnish a room: it fits and enhances every ambience and lends support and character to every style. A natural wood floor is not simply a floor, it is also a load-bearing and design element of the room.

It is supported by windows and doors from Josko in corresponding colours – or in an elegant combination in which the windows and doors create an exciting and harmonious match with the floor. Allow yourself to be inspired and combine according to your own taste – your Josko partner will be glad to help you.

EVERY FLOOR BOARD IS UNIQUE

Wood is a completely natural raw material as unique as the tree from which it comes. Sometimes the grain is narrower, other times wider, sometimes it winds elegantly around a knot, sometimes there are none. And depending on how the light is shining, its surface radiates with different shades of colour. No other building material has the same level of vitality and genuineness as wood, even when it comes from the same tree. That's what makes wood so unique, so warm and beautiful – and makes every natural wood floor unique with its own particular story and individual character.

PERSONAL ADVICE

Glide your hand over the surface of the wood, experience its fine structure and enjoy the beauty of the grain: There's a reason why our natural wood flooring is available only from selected local Josko partners. Here you'll receive the best advice about wood species, grades and surfaces; here you can choose the colour and the matching skirting boards, windows and doors. We want you to find the natural wood floor that suits you – after all, even the best photos can never truly reflect the inner beauty of a real natural wood floor.

PROFESSIONALLY INSTALLED CRAFTSMANSHIP

The high quality workmanship of our natural wood floors continues with the high demands placed on its installation. Only professional installation followed by careful initial care by specially trained fitters guarantees perfectly laid natural wood flooring that you'll love for many years to come.

A DECISION WITH VISION

NATURAL WOOD FLOORING WITH CHARACTER

Wood is one of the most beautiful natural products in the world. And also one of the most durable. No matter what you do with such a wonderful natural product, the aim must always be to do justice to its "natural" quality.

This is the idea behind Josko natural wood flooring. Only selected quality in terms of the wood, production, treatment and installation guarantee long-term pleasure. That demands a lot of experience, manual work and good judgement – but it's worth it in the end. After all, the result is true workmanship that reveals a love of detail and shows what it is made of: pure, refined nature.

Our natural wood flooring is more than just an attractive, natural floor covering – it's the foundation for good living. And there's a reason for that.

A PURE NATURAL WOOD FLOOR

Natural wood flooring from Josko is produced from start to finish using solid wood. The wood is not just treated on the surface, but deep into the cell and pore systems: in some cases with heat and pressure, and in other cases with lye, depending on the desired colouring. The flooring is then treated with a special natural oil, similar to that used on the old Viking ships. This thorough, purely natural treatment makes our natural wood floors incredibly durable and resistant.

WOOD FROM EUROPEAN FORESTS

The wood for our natural wood flooring comes exclusively from sustainable, responsibly managed, PEFC-certified forests in Central Europe. That keeps transport to a minimum.

CLOSE TO NATURE AND ECOCONSCIOUS

A pure natural wood floor from mature lumber is environmentally friendly, durable and resource-conserving – and is also completely compostable. TRAPA also has a responsible attitude and goes easy on resources during the production process: the company generates 80 % of its required electricity by incinerating scrap wood; surplus energy is supplied to neighbouring districts.

QUALITY FROM AUSTRIA

Our natural wood flooring is all produced in the TRAPA factory in St. Veit an der Glan in the state of Carinthia – from the sawn timber to the finished product ready for installation. All the layers are sorted manually to create a harmonious overall look. The natural wood flooring acquires its final character during the complex refining process.

GUARANTEED STRAIN FREE AND FLEXIBLE

Before our wood is processed, it is air-dried for several months, then it is chamber-dried under mild conditions and, finally – with 7 % remaining wood moisture – it is processed into top, middle and bottom layers. As a result of this unusually complex drying process, our natural wood flooring remains absolutely strain-free and flexible even in difficult climatic conditions – also with underfloor heating.

Imagesource: Trapa

OUTSTANDING DIMENSIONAL STABILITY THROUGH INTELLIGENT PROCESSING

Our natural wood flooring is extremely dimensionally stable. On the one hand, this is due to the middle layer of standing annual rings and on the other hand, the top and backing layers in which the sawn surfaces are so exact that they do not have to be planed or sanded to enable optimum bonding. This results in natural wood flooring with enormous stability.

FOOTFALL SOUND INSULATION IS INCLUDED THANKS TO THE SPECIAL ADHESIVE

Expert floorers install our natural wood flooring professionally using a specially developed solvent-free adhesive. This enables clean, accurate joints to other materials and also improves impact sound by 14 dB – with no other insulation material whatsoever.

THE COMPLEX MANUAL WORK PREVENTS KNOTS BREAKING OUT

Some of our natural wood flooring styles are kept deliberately knotty, even if this requires considerably more manual work. To prevent knots from splitting, loose fibres are removed from every single knot and they are then compressed under high pressure. This ensures that every knot remains permanently attractive and pleasing to the eye.

QUALITY THAT YOU CAN SEE AND FEEL

PRECISE, ACCURATELY FITTING CONNECTIONS DUE TO SPECIAL JOINTS

So that our natural wood floors are perfectly even after they have been installed, the middle layers have precision-milled tongues and grooves. And to guarantee the highest level of stability, at the ends we use special duplex joints made from glue-laminated layers of wood.

REFINED WITH CRYSTALLISING NATURAL OIL: LONG-TERM PROTECTION AGAINST WEAR AND TEAR

The extremely high levels of durability and scuff resistance of our natural timber flooring are the result of intensive deep treatment with crystallising natural oil. This high quality oil penetrates deep into the structure of the wood where it crystallises and hardens in the pores to provide long-term protection against wear and tear. It also gives the wood a pleasant velvety feel, makes it non-slip and impervious to water and dirt.

A TRULY NATURAL PRODUCT: BREATHABLE, NOT SEALED

Our natural wood flooring has no paints or waxes and is not sealed. This ensures that it remains diffusion open or "breathable" and regulates the room climate by absorbing and releasing moisture from the air. Consequently, it retains the most precious properties of the wood: vitality, warmth and comfort.

DURABLE NATURAL COLOURS BY MEANS OF HEAT-PRESSURE TREATMENT

As opposed to the commonly used ammonia fuming, for our natural wood flooring bog oak and terra oak are treated with a carefully coordinated interaction of heat and pressure until the sugar in the cells of the wood caramelises. As a result, the wood naturally develops its typical earth, coffee and cocoa colours from inside to outside with a permanent colouration deep into the structure of the wood.

COLOUR-ACTIVATING DEEP TREATMENT: NO YELLOWING OF THE WOOD

Permanent colour stability is also guaranteed as a result of the traditional lye treatment that we use for some of our natural wood flooring in which certain components of the wood, such as resins and tannins, react with a special lye in a natural and ecologically sustainable manner. This process creates deep, permanently light-stable colour shades inside the wood that don't turn yellow or fade.

KLASSIK FLOORBOARD

High quality wood, processed carefully:
The 3-layer, strain-free structure guarantees outstanding dimensional stability – important where there is fluctuating humidity, dry room air or underfloor heating.

Because the length and width are limited in size, this makes the Klassik floor board especially good value. The surfaces are the same as with the Premium-collection. After all, "classic" means: designed immaculately, perfected, and timeless.

The Klassik floorboard from Josko is available in oak, bog oak, terra oak and larch.

The Premium floorboard from Josko is available in oak, bog oak and terra oak.

STORICO FLOORBOARD

For the antique structure of our Storico floor boards the surface is treated with a special mechanical process to give it an aged look: A Storico floor breathes history.

The hardest parts of the wood, such as annual rings and knots, are the visual and tangible focus, which makes the flooring extremely hard wearing. It also acquires a unique character and a vitality that you normally find only in natural wood floors that are decades old.

The Storico floor board from Josko is available in oak, bog oak and terra oak.

TO LIVE IN HARMONY

ADDITIONAL PRODUCTS MADE FROM THE SAME WOOD

Flowing transitions between floor and wall are pleasing to the eye and also incredibly easy to look after. With a matching skirting board the natural wood floor acquires a third dimension that connects it with the wall to give the room a coherent, balanced character.

Even more impressive is when stairs are also installed in the same look: it seems almost as if the natural wood floor winds upwards, giving the entire room unique accents. The result is a coordinated overall architectural impression for complete natural and harmonious living

Our natural wood floors also offer fascinating possibilities when they are used as wall panels: With wall panelling in the same wood as the floor you can create subtle effects in which the wall and floor seem to blend together and give the room a unique flair that changes between traditional alpine and avant-garde modern depending on the character of the wall panelling.

THE NEW HARMONY OF LIVING

Most of us are more sensuous than we think. And more sensitive than we believe. Even if we're not specifically aware of it: our inner balance depends more on the harmony in our external living environment than many people assume. It's the little details that matter: materials and colours are energy carriers; how they are chosen and combined in living and working environments has a continuous effect on our mental and physical wellbeing. Our decisions influence whether our feelings are positive or negative.

A knowledge of the natural laws of healthy, harmonious living is at the heart of Josko's product philosophy. Every individual living requirement is different. Consequently, what really matters is the quality with which the right mix of individual components can be combined into a complete solution with vision. And that is precisely Josko's USP: translating people's specific needs into innovations to fulfil individual needs as well as it can.

Josko adapts its products to suit customers' requirements, not the other way round. The DNA code is: Smart Mix. Which means: Intelligent, contemporary, ecologically-friendly solutions to combine materials, technology and colours to create a coherent living harmony. The Josko product range is now complemented with several exclusive, high quality natural wood flooring styles from our production partner Trapa. In combination with Josko's windows, front doors and interior doors they create a unique high quality offering: harmonious coordination, everything from one source, everything from Josko.

With a passion for detail, Josko Smart Mix creates an unprecedented warm atmosphere for all the senses. Wood selected and processed according to traditional craftsmanship, refined with special oils and with optimum colour coordination: For the first time, this combination allows complete harmony in your personal living environment. From the flooring to the matching skirting board and stairs, to the windows, interior and front doors – Josko Smart Mix creates a level of harmony that's good for us.

That's WONDERFULLY JOSKO.

WONDERFULLY CAREFREE

HOW TO KEEP YOUR FLOOR PERMANENTLY ATTRACTIVE

PROFESSIONAL INITIAL TREATMENT

Professional installation of our natural wood flooring includes a professional initial treatment – this is what gives our natural wood flooring its final surface and colour. The professional floorers also completely remove any scrapes or scratches, adhesive residues or marks caused by other trades.

SIMPLY MOP OVER AND THE JOB'S DONE

The crystallising natural oil's deep penetration into the wood structure makes our natural wood floors amazingly resistant and durable as well as non-slip, anti-static and extremely easy to clean. All that's needed is regular vacuuming and occasional cleaning with a damp cotton mop (not a microfibre cloth) and wood floor soap.

The wood slowly releases moisture to the environment, which creates a pleasant room climate and the natural coconut and soy oils in the soap are like hand cream for wood floors. Detailed cleaning instructions are available at www.josko.at
